Hearing Is™

HEARING IS TOGETHER.

The holidays are full of family, laughter, and noise. Make sure every voice can be heard.

Busy holiday gatherings can make conversations harder, especially for people with hearing loss. A few simple changes can help everyone stay connected.

- Lower background music when people are talking
- Choose quieter seating when possible
- Face the person you are speaking with
- Take listening breaks if the room gets overwhelming

Talk to an audiologist about communication strategies for the holidays.
